is made available through the knowledge base portal. The report outlines a number of actions to be taken in order to ensure that the repository of geospatial information management is searchable and continuously updated.